Certificate of Service

I hereby certify that on Monday, October 03, 2022 I provided a true and correct copy of the Praecipe-Summons/Alias to the following:

Signature: /s/ Catlett, Matt (Bar Number: 21699)

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF LANCASTER COUNTY, NEBRASKA

CHRISTIAN L. GILBERT,)	Case No. _____
Plaintiff,)	COMPLAINT
vs.)	JURY TRIAL DEMANDED
CHRISTOPHER M. JOHNSON) and CORDELL & CORDELL,) P.C., a Missouri corporation,) Defendants.)

Christian L. Gilbert, the above-named plaintiff, states and alleges as follows:

1. The plaintiff is and has been at all times relevant, a resident of the State of Iowa.
2. Defendant Christopher M. Johnson ("Johnson") is, and has been at all times relevant, a resident of the State of Nebraska. Johnson is, and has been at all times relevant, an attorney licensed to practice before the courts of the State of Nebraska.
3. Defendant Cordell & Cordell, P.C. ("Cordell"), is a Missouri professional corporation, and has offices and transacts business in various states, including the State of Nebraska.
4. Johnson was at all times relevant an employee and agent of Cordell, and all of Johnson's actions and omissions as alleged below were imputed to Cordell under the doctrine of respondeat superior.
5. On January 9, 2020, Paw Kee ("Kee") filed against the plaintiff a "Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support" in the District Court of Lancaster County, Nebraska, case number CI20-102 (the "Paternity Action"), wherein Kee sought to establish the plaintiff's paternity of her minor child, Cylise Gilbert, and for an award of custody of Cylise and child support from the plaintiff.

6. On January 13, 2020, Kee filed an “Ex Parte Motion for Temporary Custody” in the Paternity Action, wherein she sought temporary custody of Cylise. On January 13, 2020, the court in the Paternity Action entered an “Ex Parte Order” awarding temporary custody of Cylise to Kee.

7. On January 14, 2021, upon being served by a Deputy of the Jasper County, Iowa Sheriff at his home in Newton, Iowa, with Kee’s January 9, 2020, “Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support” and the court’s January 13, 2020, “Ex Parte Order” in the Paternity Action, the plaintiff contacted Jessica M. Millage (“Millage”), who was at that time employed as an associate attorney of Cordell in its Iowa offices and was representing the plaintiff in a civil action that the plaintiff had commenced against Kee in a court of the State of Iowa on December 17, 2019, to establish his paternity of Cylise and for an award of custody of Cylise and child support from Kee (the “Iowa Action”), and notified Millage that he had just been served in the Nebraska Action, and further that the Deputy of the Jasper County, Iowa, Sheriff that had served him had, under ostensible authority of the January 13, 2020, “Ex Parte Order” in the Paternity Action, seized custody of Cylise from his child care provider in Newton and delivered him to Kee. Millage informed the plaintiff that she was not licensed to practice in the courts of the State of Nebraska and could not represent him in the Nebraska Action, but that there were attorneys with Cordell that were, and that one of those attorneys would represent the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action.

8. Between January 14, 2021, and January 23, 2021, the plaintiff retained Johnson to represent the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action.

9. On January 23, 2021, Johnson filed on behalf of the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action a “Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Jurisdiction Under UCCJEA.” in the Nebraska Action. This was the first document filed by Johnson on behalf of the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action requesting any relief. In this document, Johnson did not seek dismissal on the ground that the court lacked jurisdiction over the person of the plaintiff. Instead, Johnson requested that the court dismiss the “Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support” on the ground that it did not have jurisdiction to make a child custody determination under the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act.

10. A party will be deemed to have appeared generally if, by motion or other form of application to a court, he or she seeks to bring its powers into action on any matter other than jurisdiction over that party. See, e.g., Applied

Underwriters v. Oceanside Laundry, 300 Neb. 333 (2018).

11. The “Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Jurisdiction Under UCCJEA” filed by Johnson on the plaintiff’s behalf in the Nebraska Action constituted a general appearance by the plaintiff.

12. Had Johnson moved the court in the Nebraska Action to dismiss Kee’s January 9, 2020, “Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Support” on the ground of lack of personal jurisdiction, the court would have granted the motion, since the action was one to establish the plaintiff’s paternity of Cylise, and yet the plaintiff was not a resident of the State of Nebraska on January 9, 2020, Cylise was not conceived in the State of Nebraska, the plaintiff had never resided in the State of Nebraska with Cylise, the plaintiff never provided prenatal expenses or support for Cylise in the State of Nebraska, Cylise did not reside in the State of Nebraska on January 9, 2020, as a result of the acts or directives of the plaintiff, and there was no other basis consistent with the Constitution of the United States for the exercise of personal jurisdiction over the plaintiff.

13. Not only did Johnson not in the first instance move the court in the Nebraska Action to dismiss Kee’s January 9, 2020, “Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support” on the ground of lack of personal jurisdiction, Johnson did not even advise the plaintiff of the consequences of not doing so. In fact, Johnson never even discussed with the plaintiff the possibility of moving the court to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction.

14. On January 29, 2020, a hearing was held in the Nebraska Action on Johnson’s January 23, 2020, “Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Jurisdiction Under UCCJEA,” but no record exists of that hearing, because Johnson did not demand that a record be made. The January 29, 2020, hearing in the Nebraska Action on Johnson’s January 23, 2020, “Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Jurisdiction Under UCCJEA” was recessed until February 10, 2020. On February 14, 2020, the court in the Nebraska Action entered an “Order” denying the “Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Jurisdiction Under UCCJEA” filed by Johnson on the plaintiff’s behalf on January 23, 2020. This forced the plaintiff to litigate a paternity action in a court that did not have personal jurisdiction over him.

15. Johnson represented the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action until October 2, 2020, at which time he was granted leave to withdraw from representing the plaintiff.

16. Pursuant to Neb. Ct. R. Pldg. § 6-1112, Johnson had 20 days from February 14, 2020, or March 5, 2020, to file and serve a pleading responsive to Kee's January 9, 2020, "Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support." But Johnson did not file or serve such a responsive pleading by March 5, 2020, or at any time prior to October 2, 2020.

17. Despite the plaintiff's repeated requests of Johnson during the period Johnson represented the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action that he seek on the plaintiff's behalf custody of Cylise, Johnson failed to file any motions with the court requesting such relief. On May 8, 2020, the court in the Nebraska Action entered a "Temporary Order" awarding temporary custody of Cylise to Kee and specified temporary visitation with Cylise to the plaintiff. The visitation awarded to the plaintiff in the "Temporary Order" was every other weekend from Friday at 5:00 p.m. until Monday before noon. It is unclear as to the genesis of this May 8, 2020, "Temporary Order," as it was not based on any motions filed by either the plaintiff or Kee. The court in the May 8, 2020, "Temporary Order" stated in the first sentence that "THIS MATTER came before this Court upon the agreement of the parties for temporary parenting time," but the evidentiary record in the Nebraska Action contains no such "agreement." However, below the judge's signature in the May 8, 2020, "Temporary Order" appears the statement, "Approved as to form and content by" and below that statement appears the printed names and signatures of Johnson and Kee's attorney, and the plaintiff and Kee. Insofar as these printed names and signatures reflect "the agreement" referred to by the court in the first sentence of this "Temporary Order," this was not in fact the plaintiff's "agreement." Indeed, prior to signing this document, the plaintiff made it clear to Johnson that he wanted custody of Cylise, not just visitation, and that he certainly desired more visitation with Cylise than every other weekend. Johnson, however, told the plaintiff that there was no way the court in the Nebraska Action would award custody of Cylise to him, and that the visitation set forth in the "Temporary Order" was the most that the court would award him temporarily. These statements were false, if not knowingly, at least negligently. Johnson had a duty to seek the relief requested by the plaintiff, and to present evidence and arguments to the court, but Johnson simply chose to disregard the plaintiff's requests.

18. Throughout Johnson's representation of the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action, Johnson billed the plaintiff for services that he claimed he provided to the plaintiff, and for expenses he claimed that he incurred on behalf of the plaintiff. The amounts billed were unreasonable and did not reflect the value of the services provided to the plaintiff by Johnson. As alleged above, had Johnson moved the court to dismiss Kee's January 9, 2020, "Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support" in the first instant on the ground that the court in the Nebraska Action lacked jurisdiction over the person of the plaintiff, and had Johnson presented evidence in support of such motion, the court in the Nebraska Action would have granted the motion. At that point Johnson's representation of the plaintiff would have ended, which of course would mean that there would be no more fees charged to the plaintiff.

19. In the motion Johnson filed in the Nebraska Action for leave to withdraw from representing the plaintiff, which he did on September 22, 2020, Johnson stated:

1. That [the plaintiff] has not adhered to the terms of the representation agreement that prevents the firm from being able to continue to represent [the plaintiff].
2. Further, that demand was made in writing of [the plaintiff] on September 11, 2020 to come into compliance with the terms of the representation agreement, and [the plaintiff] has made no effort to come into said compliance.
3. Further, Counsel for [the plaintiff] have no reasonable belief that [the plaintiff] will come into compliance with the terms of his representation agreement at any point in the foreseeable future.

The foregoing statements by Johnson were not merely false, they disparaged the plaintiff and violated Johnson's duties of loyalty and confidentiality to the plaintiff. The making of these statements by Johnson resulted in prejudice to the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action, as they created in the court a negative impression of the plaintiff.

20. The granting by the court in the Nebraska Action of Johnson's September 22, 2020, motion for leave to withdraw from representing the plaintiff resulted in significant prejudice to the plaintiff. The plaintiff was forced to engage new counsel in an attempt to remedy the deficiencies of Johnson's previous representation. These attempts were ultimately unsuccessful, because on March 31, 2022, the court in the Nebraska Action awarded the legal and physical custody of Cylise exclusively to Kee permanently, awarded to the plaintiff visitation with Cylise that consisted of essentially the same visitation as set forth in the May 8, 2020, “Temporary Order,” ordered the plaintiff to pay Kee monthly child support, retroactive child support, and attorney fees in the sum of $30,000.00. Had Johnson competently represented the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action, none of these things would have occurred.

PROFESSIONAL NEGLIGENCE

21. The plaintiff re-alleges paragraphs 1-20 above and incorporates them herein by reference.

22. Johnson owed the plaintiff a duty of care to provide competent legal representation to the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action, but breached that duty starting on January 23, 2020, and continuing until October 2, 2020, by (a) failing to advise the plaintiff of the possibility of moving to dismiss Kee’s January 9, 2020, “Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support” on the ground of a lack of personal jurisdiction over the plaintiff, (b) failing to actually move the court in the Nebraska Action to dismiss Kee’s January 9, 2020, “Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support” dismiss on the ground of a lack of personal jurisdiction over the plaintiff, (c) failing to file and serve a pleading responsive to Kee’s January 9, 2020, “Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support,” (d) failing to seek from the court in the Nebraska Action the relief repeatedly requested by the plaintiff, namely temporary custody of Cylise, (e) telling the plaintiff that there was no way the court in the Nebraska Action would award to him the temporary custody of Cylise, and that the visitation set forth in the court’s May 8, 2020, “Temporary Order” was the most that the court would award to the plaintiff, (f) making false and disparaging statements to the court about the plaintiff in his September 22, 2020, motion for leave to withdraw, and (g) charging to the plaintiff an unreasonable fee for the services he provided to the plaintiff.

23. As a direct and proximate result of Johnson’s breaches of his duty of care, the plaintiff has been damaged.

BREACH OF FIDUCIARY DUTIES

24. The plaintiff re-alleges paragraphs 1-20 above and incorporates them herein by reference.

25. Johnson owed the plaintiff fiduciary duties to act in the best interests of the plaintiff, to be loyal to the plaintiff, and to maintain the confidences of the plaintiff throughout his representation of the plaintiff in the Nebraska Action, but breached those duties starting on January 23, 2020, and continuing until October 2, 2020, by (a) failing to advise the plaintiff of the possibility of moving to dismiss Kee's January 9, 2020, "Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support" on the ground of a lack of personal jurisdiction over the plaintiff, by (b) failing to actually move the court in the Nebraska Action to dismiss Kee's January 9, 2020, "Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support" dismiss on the ground of a lack of personal jurisdiction over the plaintiff, (c) by failing to file and serve a pleading responsive to Kee's January 9, 2020, "Complaint for Paternity, Custody and Child Support," (d) by failing to seek from the court in the Nebraska Action the relief repeatedly requested by the plaintiff, namely temporary custody of Cylise, (e) by telling the plaintiff that there was no way the court in the Nebraska Action would award to him the temporary custody of Cylise, and that the visitation set forth in the court's May 8, 2020, "Temporary Order" was the most that the court would award to the plaintiff, (f) by making false and disparaging statements to the court about the plaintiff in his September 22, 2020, motion for leave to withdraw, and (g) by charging to the plaintiff an unreasonable fee for the services he provided to the plaintiff.

26. As a direct and proximate result of Johnson's breaches of his fiduciary duties, the plaintiff has been damaged.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

The plaintiff demands a trial by jury.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

The plaintiff requests that judgment be entered against Johnson and Cordell for general and special damages, and costs and attorney fees as allowed by law.
